Moslems Asked To Honor Pact

Despite Terrorist Diehards' Refusal

ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian leader of the Secret Army Organization pressured Moslem nationalists today to carry out a peace accord with the European terrorists despite his own failure to extend peace outside the Algerian capital.

Jean-Jacques Susini Tuesday night gave the nationalists 48 hours in which to begin implementing the agreement he reached over the weekend with Dr. Chewki Mostefai, representative of the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN) on the Algerian provisional executive.

"If time goes by without results, Algeria will again be reduced to chaos," Susini warned in a private radio broadcast. The nationalist regime in Tunis has shown no inclination to endorse Mostefai's vaguely worded promise to enlist Europeans in local security forces and his pledge of amnesty for European terrorists "as soon as conditions of sovereignty permit."

The Susini-Mostefai agreement also has won only limited support from secret army elements. Terrorism ceased in the Algiers area but secret army commanders elsewhere in Algeria disavowed the pact.

European terrorists fired 10 mortar shells into a Moslem quarter of Oran Tuesday, wounding 18 French soldiers. Europeans continued to regroup in five west Algerian towns around Oran for a last ditch stand against the Moslem takeover after the July 1 independence referendum.

2 Arrested After Traffic Mishaps

The Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol Tuesday night investigated two Columbiana County accidents which ended in the arrest of two area motorists. No one was injured.

Cited were Phillip Detwiler, 21, of Columbiana, charged with failing to stop within the assured clear distance, and Richard L. McMillen, 31, of East Palestine, arrested for traveling too fast for road conditions.

Detwiler's auto struck the rear of a car driven by Robert L. Witmer, 25, of Columbiana as Witmer was making a right turn after both started out from a traffic light. The accident, at 7:10 p.m., occurred east of Columbiana, about five miles west of State Highway 165 on Route 14.

The collision resulted in damage to the front fender, bumper and grill of Detwiler's car and the trunk and rear bumper of Witmer's.

McMillen crashed his auto into and damaged a Negley area bridge on County Road 432 about four miles south of Route 46 at 7:45 p.m. After making a sudden left turn, he lost control of his car and hit the span, the Patrol reported. The bumper, fender, grill, headlights and rear tires were damaged.

SCHOOL PROGRESSES — Workers hope to begin putting the roof on this new West Branch High School this week at the site just south of Beloit. The Board of Education last night took action to place a bond issue on the November ballot to provide additional money for a gymnasium to extend from the opposite side of the building shown, above. This view shows the classroom section going up at right with the shop section at left.

W. Branch Board Plans Gym Bonds

Clerk Rhea Emmons was instructed by the West Branch Local School District Board of Education Tuesday night to take steps to place a bond issue on the November ballot.

She was requested to make a check of the current property evaluation in the district before the November ballot.

The decision on the levy is awaiting a ruling from the state attorney general on when the levy must be placed on the ballot.

Mahoning County Auditor Stephen Olenick has written to the attorney general's office for a decision on the matter, Heacock said.

The levy is needed, school officials report, to make up for some $40,000 annual loss that will result from a recent Mahoning County court ruling.

The legal millage rate in West Branch School district was reduced from 14 to 12.9 by County Common Pleas Court Judge John W. Ford. The loss of 1.1 mills in the school district amounts to about $23,000 from Mahoning County and $20,000 from the State Foundation program.

If the bond issue is passed, it will provide funds for building a gym with a 2,000-seating capacity at basketball games and will include a stage for dramatic performances and commencement exercises which 3,500 could attend.

Roof To Go On — The high school construction is about one week behind schedule, according to the contractor, Charles Cartwright of Sebring.

With a force of 32 men at work, Cartwright said they will begin the roof this week. Walls of the two-story classroom section on the north side and the industrial arts section on the south side are rapidly going up and the chimney stack is nearly complete. School officials anticipate completion by late July.

The senators have come up with a counter proposal—if they agree to rotate the chairmanship, then the House members must agree to let the Senate originate half of the money bills. The House starts them all now as it has for years and years.

Probe Continues Into Entertainers' Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating vice behind the footlights were expected to hear testimony today that teen-age girls were used as prostitutes in honky-tonk night clubs in Florida.

Among the scheduled witnesses were Daniel Sullivan, director of the Miami Crime Commission; officials of the Florida State Liquor Licensing Board, and spokesmen for the American Guild of Variety Artists, AFL-CIO.

Jerome Adelman, counsel for the Senate investigations subcommittee, said there would also be some other witnesses from Miami and Tampa but declined to identify them in advance.

For more than a week the subcommittee has heard witnesses from the G-string circuit—dancers, singers, cafe owners and reputed mobsters—as well as from police officials in its probe of alleged connivance between underworld figures and some officials of the entertainers' union, AGVA. Testimony that teen-age girls as young as 15 were recruited in the United States, Canada and Cuba amount of the bond issue is determined.

Action on a proposed operating levy was deferred until July 10, pending further study.

Clinton Heacock, West Branch executive head, reports the bond issue is needed to provide about $300,000 for the construction of a new gymnasium to be attached to the south side of the high school being built on Route 173 just south of Beloit.

The decision on the levy is awaiting a ruling from the state attorney general on when the levy must be placed on the ballot.

United Space Probe Possible

Tiros May Lead to Joint U.S.-Red Plan

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — America's newest weather satellite, Tiros V, orbiting on its hurricane and storm hunting mission, may prove to be the first step toward a cooperative space program between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The weather watch satellite, launched Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, will photograph cloud cover over a much greater area of the world than any of the previous four Tiros satellites. Included is the sky above most of the Soviet Union.

During its anticipated four-month useful lifetime, Tiros V's two wide-angle cameras are expected to snap hundreds of pictures of weather systems over the U.S.S.R. A National Aeronautics and Space Administration official said the photographs will be available to Soviet meteorologists if they want them.

Presumably, the Russians will ask for the pictures. Earlier this month, American and Soviet scientists signed a pact in Geneva agreeing to share data received from their respective weather satellites—with a long-range look at possibly building a broad mutual space research program.

The representatives of the two major space powers also discussed the possibility of coordinating tracking, launch dates and satellite objectives to reduce exploration overlaps. There was no provision for a common launching.

As yet, the Soviet Union has not launched a weather satellite. It reportedly is developing one, but it is not known whether it is similar to the Tiros system.

The pact was the first concrete result of an exchange of letters earlier this year between Presi-

Rusk Begins Consultations With NATO Chiefs In Paris

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk today began a round of consultations with North Atlantic Treaty Organization military and political leaders after a meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle that made no real progress toward smoothing differences between France and the United States.

Rusk arrived in Paris on Tuesday for the first stop on a West European tour to shore up the unity of NATO. American sources said his initial talk with De Gaulle was animated, friendly and searching but that it didn't budge the French leader.

Rusk met first today with Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO supreme commander, and then talked with Ambassador Thomas K. Finletter, the permanent U.S. representative of the 15-nation NATO Council.

There was no immediate indication of the substance of their talks. It was thought likely they briefly reviewed current NATO problems, including the issue of giving America's allies a greater share in deciding on when and how NATO's arsenal of American nuclear warheads might be used.

After his meetings with Norstad and Finletter, Rusk went to the sprawling NATO headquarters at the edge of Paris for talks with NATO Secretary-General Dirk U. Stikker and a session with the council.

U.S. sources said Rusk was meeting informally with the council and had no prepared statement or specific proposals to put before the group.

Later, Rusk was to return to his consultations with French leaders—the main purpose of his three-day trip to Paris. He had two meetings scheduled with Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and was to call on Premier Georges Pompidou.

During his talks with Couve de Murville, Rusk was expected to deal more specifically with the issues he had taken up with De Gaulle.

U.S. opposition to De Gaulle's plan to give his armies their own atomic arsenal was one of the main points discussed by Rusk and the French president for an hour and a quarter Tuesday in the Elysee Palace.

Rusk told De Gaulle in effect that creation of an independent French nuclear striking force would be dangerous and ineffective as a deterrent against Communist attack. He reportedly made no offer to share nuclear secrets that only Britain now gets from the United States.

De Gaulle listened pleasantly, but apparently remained adamant in his determination to concentrate French energies and resources on development of France's own nuclear force.

Rusk told newsmen later it had been a most interesting conversation. An American source said the talk had produced no agreement or any new proposals, but that the two leaders had stressed unity on basic commitments of both countries to the Western alliance. The source said the talk will probably lead to a conference between De Gaulle and President Kennedy before the end of the year.

The United States is anxious to see Britain admitted to the six-

$323,654 Budget For '63 Approved

An estimated budget of $323,654.72, a decline of $2,227.29 from this year's, was adopted for 1963, when City Council met Tuesday evening.

The budget in 1961 was $257,910. Major items on the budget show an increase over last year, despite the fact that the over-all budget is lower.

For the police department $89,440 is earmarked, compared to $83,200 for 1962 and the Fire Department budget is up $5,600—from $70,844 in '62 to $76,444 for 1963.

The budget is based on an estimate of the amount of revenue the city will receive from various tax sources, including the city income tax.

The budget does not necessarily mean that the city will receive that amount of money, however. Copies of the budget will be sent to the county auditor for approval.

Curb Police Cruiser Use — In other action, Council passed a resolution calling for the discontinuance of the use of city police service outside the city limits, except in cases of emergency.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer reported that City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff Jr. has completed specifications for the resurfacing of E. Second St., South Broadway and Columbia and that bids will be opened June 28 or 29.

Mayor Cranmer also stated that the engineer is working on plans for the Hillsdale sewer line.

The city's new $5,500 highlift was delivered Monday. The mayor also reported that oiling of city alleys is almost complete.

Cranmer also said that $910.82 is owed for a paint sprayer that has been in use since early spring. The mayor indicated that attempts had been made to borrow equipment necessary for the painting and re-lining of streets but to no avail.

The mayor said that not enough money is in the street fund to pay for the sprayer and asked Council to appropriate the necessary revenue from either the general fund or contingency fund.

Will Pay Firm For 278 Meters at Rate Of $417 a Month

A recommendation by City Council's claims committee that City Auditor Helen Coyne be directed to begin payment on $12,842 worth of parking meters purchased last winter from the Magee-Hale Co. by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer was adopted unanimously by Council Tuesday evening.

The recommendation calls for payment of $1.50 per meter per month, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1962.

Committee members met with City Solicitor Thomas Coe following the meeting to draft two ordinances dealing with the matter.

The first would establish a Meter Fund, in which all revenue from the meters would be placed, while the second would authorize the meter payments from that fund.

The ordinances will be voted upon at the next Council meeting and, from all indications, will have little trouble passing.

Last night's action was the first step taken toward payment of the 278 on street meters since the issue became a "political football" last fall after the auditor insisted the purchase was made illegally.

Solicitors Disagreed — According to Auditor Coyne, the purchase was illegal because Mayor Cranmer had neither written permission from Council nor certification from her that the money was in fund or process of being collected.

Her stand was backed by Solicitor Coe who issued a ruling at her request last April. He and the auditor are Republicans while the mayor is a Democrat.

"Any attempt to pay the Magee-Hale Co. for the meters obtained in 1961 would place a legal duty upon me, as city solicitor, to bring action to enjoin the payment," Atty. Coe said in his

Malfunction Delays Big Nuclear Blast

HONOLULU (AP) — The United States failed in its second attempt to explode a high-altitude nuclear device above Johnston Island Tuesday night.

The Thor intermediate missile used to rocket the gigantic nuclear package aloft was destroyed "due to a malfunction in the system."

Joint Task Force 8 released the following announcement:

"The nuclear device was purposely destroyed without a nuclear detonation. The debris fell into the open sea well within the safety area which was previously designated.

"There was no danger to test personnel. There will be no danger to human life or hazardous levels of radioactivity in the ocean," the announcement said.

The failure was a repeat performance of the first U.S. high altitude nuclear test attempt June 4 at the Pacific island test area 750 miles southwest of Honolulu.

The first shot was aborted when the Thor missile's tracking system malfunctioned.

The official announcement on Tuesday night's shot was not specific on what went wrong.

Rarely Sparked by Creativity

Television Programs Were Poor Last Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1961-62 television season has, for the most part, come to a quiet end. As the re-runs crowd the home screens, there will be few mourners at its passing.

For a second year in a row, it has been a period rarely sparked by creativity—a period dominated by formula writing and production-line entertainment containing very little that was fresh or novel.

The high points of the season, curiously enough, were the news shows—the cameras on the launching of manned rockets into space, a tour of the White House, an investigation of the operation of a book-making establishment.

It was a time when the industry—really nervous about strong criticism by Congressional subcommittees, the Federal Communications Commission and articulate critics—seriously attempted to curb scenes of violence.

It was a time when there were few original dramas, and most of those were second-rate and seemed to have been scripts found at the back of an author's desk drawer. The most interesting dramas were adaptations of Broadway successes or novels.

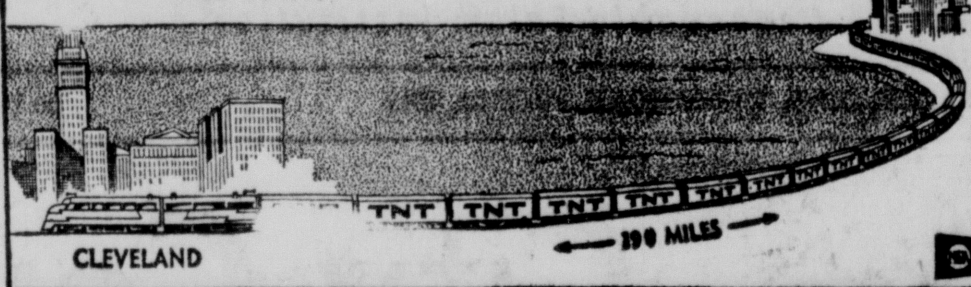

The networks did a lot of bragging about their news and public affairs shows but continued to schedule most of them on the outside fringes of valuable prime evening time.

The public, in survey after survey, showed marked preference for pure entertainment—the Westerns, the doctors, the comedians.

It has been, in short, period with many more downs than ups. Maybe—just maybe—things will pick up next year.

"Noah and the Flood," CBS' expensive excursion into culture last week, may have improved the corporate images of the network and the shampoo company that sponsored it, but it apparently didn't impress the public much. A sampling of the New York area by one research outfit indicated that every other competing network show had a larger audience than the dance-drama—NBC's "Dr. Kildare" and "Hazel" had twice as many viewers.

A LOT OF BANG—It would take 20,000 freight cars loaded with T.N.T. to equal the first high-altitude one-megaton nuclear explosion by the United States high above Johnston Island in the Pacific. They would stretch nearly 190 miles, about the distance between Buffalo and Cleveland. Russia's giant 57-megaton blast set off last fall equalled the explosive force of a line of T.N.T.-packed cars 10,773 miles long. Smallest known U.S. detonation was one-tenth of a kiloton, or about the power of two freight cars full of T.N.T.

Order on Orders Ordered by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's latest executive order—hot off the White House mimeograph—spells out a dozen easy-to-take steps for getting an executive order to the President's desk.

The White House produced the new order Tuesday, the last sent to Kennedy under a 14-year-old order on orders.

From now on, when a government agency wants the President to issue an executive order or a proclamation, the outfit's boss must supply a letter explaining and justifying the request.

This has been the practice, the White House said. The new order simply makes it formal.

A few things to watch in whipping up a proposed executive order:

—Spelling and punctuation. Under provisions of the order the style has to conform to the Government Printing Office manual.

—The title. A proposed order or proclamation has to have a suitable one.

—Geographic names. They must be spelled in line with the decisions of the Board on Geographic Names.

—The paper it's on. "Proposed executive orders and proclamations shall be typewritten on paper approximately 8 x 13 inches, shall have a left-hand margin of approximately 1½ inches and a right-hand margin of approximately 1 inch."

Once those details are out of the way, the order-proposer submits his document—plus seven copies—to the budget director, along with a letter explaining its "nature, purpose, background and effect."

Orphaned Kids Still Together Because of Gifts

WARROAD, Minn. (AP)—The orphaned Foster family of nine children is happily bewildered today, but still together—thanks to the generosity of strangers.

When both of their parents died within a year, it looked as though the eight young Fosters remaining at the home here would have to move in with relatives.

Foster died last September from cancer, a year—almost to the day—after the same disease had claimed his wife.

But 20-year-old Rita, the oldest of the clan of nine brothers and sisters, quit her job in Minneapolis and came to Warroad last fall, determined that the family keep on "growing up together."

Her determination attracted attention of the Grand Forks, N.D.

Herald, which made its story on the Fosters available to the Associated Press for national distribution, along with a family picture.

Touched by Rita's decision to take on this responsibility, the nation answered with nearly 2,000 letters containing some $4,000 in cash and gifts.

"I just don't understand it yet," says Rita. "Why, these people have never seen us, they never even heard of us before."

The family now lives on those official payments. The gift money remaining has been banked against future emergencies.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Questions And Answers

Q—Our daughter is traveling in Africa with her husband who is conducting an agricultural survey. She has just become pregnant and was told by the doctor who examined her that she may have to have a Caesarian section.

- If this is so, she wants to return to the states for the operation. But she also wants to be with her husband as long as it is safe and possible.

How far along in a pregnancy is it safe for her to fly back? And how soon may she and her baby return to Africa?

A—According to the latest ruling by the Aerospace Medical Association's committee on medical criteria for passenger flying, any woman in a pregnant condition shall be accepted from the beginning of the first month on through to the end of the eighth month of gestation without question.

Any woman in the ninth or last month of her pregnancy shall be accepted who can furnish a certificate from an obstetrician dated within 72 hours of departure stating that he has examined her and found her to be physically fit for transportation. The doctor must also record the estimated date of delivery.

As to the baby, the committee has ruled that "beyond the age of 7 days to 2 weeks, infants with normal cardiorespiratory systems (heart and lungs) should experience no trouble."

Q—Can you tell me something about those food supplements so highly recommended by radio commentators?

A—The Food and Drug Administration, a branch of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has just brought its first court action against misbranding caused by radio broadcasting.

The action was directed against a company, charging that its 43 food supplement products "failed to bear adequate directions for treating numerous diseases and conditions for which they were recommended in radio lectures."

"The government maintained that these 43 products were recommended for "such conditions as respiratory and circulatory diseases, club feet, multiple sclerosis, sexual frigidity, cerebral palsy, tooth decay, grey hair, heart troubles, strokes and others."

No Compromise On Medicare

The latest word from Washington on the "medicare" issue is what we anticipated it would be at this stage of the game.

The Kennedy administration, which has forgotten more about politics than most people ever can hope to find out, is willing to reach a compromise—it says.

What it means is that it now is ready to make it appear that opponents of its "medicare" proposal—the King-Anderson bill—are so dead set against being kind to people over 65 who are worried about hospital bills that they are unwilling to split the difference.

This is solid political strategy. Since this whole thing has been a solid political stratagem it was to have been expected.

The greatest usefulness of the "medicare" issue to the Kennedy administration in 1962 was as a talking point, not an acting point. This is a congressional election year. Every Democrat in the House of Representatives will be running for his life this year and will be able to use all the votes he can corner.

REPUBLICANS will be running for their lives too—and this is where the Kennedy strategy is expected to pay off. There will be no votes won by representatives who oppose the King-Anderson bill or some modification of the bill. Those who admire their stand are the same voters who would have been on their side anyway.

But there are many votes to be made on the affirmative side of the issue, the side that has been made to sound like this by the Kennedy politicians:

"Resolved: That all citizens whose hearts bleed for the plight of people over 65 who get into medical difficulties and have trouble paying the bill should vote for candidates who favored the King-Anderson bill."

Instead of asking the opponents of the bill the classic old chestnut—When did you stop beating your wife?—the Kennedy people are asking them when they quit being in favor of helping people over 65 pay their hospital bills?

This is cagey politics.

This is what earnest people who want to help solve the problem of high hospital bills without getting the government into it are up against.

SUCH PEOPLE don't want the federal government to get closer to medicine than it is now. They dread the encroachment of political power on what always has been a private relationship between the sick and the people who take care of them.

It's their tough luck to be no match for professional politicians who know how to wring votes out of emotional issues like taking care of the sick, taking care of the aged, taking care of the children, the crippled, the down and out and so on.

This is the real curse of a welfare state—that it is exploited by bleeding-heart politicians who know how to harvest and don't give two whoops and a holler over the plight of the people their political hearts bleed for.

There is no point in making any deal with the Kennedy administration on the "medicare" issue. Politically, it's a heads-I-win-tails-you-lose issue. It doesn't have a chance to get through Congress in its present form and never did. The idea wasn't to get it through anyway, only to talk about it in a congressional election year.

Wait'll I Tell Ya About Those Wild Spenders

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

FARMINGDALE, L.I. Thousands of John Kennedy's supporters are working him into a corner—and his colleagues into a lather—by not working.

They've been striking. They are forcing the President to go into the federal courts against the unions more frequently than his predecessors—including Dwight D. Eisenhower. They listen to the White House Missile Sites Labor Commission slogan of "talk, don't walk" and then they hit the bricks.

The President has found himself personally involved in tugboat crises, pilot crises, sailors' crises and railroad crises. Out here at the Republic Aviation Corp. his latest labor crisis has gotten him into outer space, too.

For over three months there has been no production at this plant which has contracts on five major defense projects. These involve equipment for our moon men, our NATO allies, our Asian defenses and our atomic submarine fleet.

WHEN SOME five unions walked out last April 1, Republic had some F-105D planes ready for shipment.

They began gathering dust instead of flight records, though they are the all-weather fighter-bombers which are our principal aerial fighters on the European front. We aren't yet in full strength in Germany. We have promised delivery of this aircraft to our allies. We haven't made it.

Also stalled on the line were sections of the Air Force F-110 and the Navy F-4H.

Somewhere on the lines, too, were sections of 350 different parts the company makes for the moon-bound Saturn missile.

ON THE FIRM'S backlog are orders for structural units for a secret reconnaissance satellite; all-weather guidance systems for the Navy's version of the air-to-ground Bullpup missile produced by another firm; automatic control systems for atomic submarines; and crew training simulators for such vital underwater defense units.

Some of these orders are new—and vital—to this company which has been hit by changes in government contracts.

One of these orders—for $18 million worth of fighter plane parts—came from the McDonnell Aircraft plant in St. Louis. Thus the stoppage has all sorts of impact.

MOST OF the Republic workers are members of the International Association of Machinists. Clean union. No one impugns its motives. But maybe someone can explain the reasoning of this union local.

Five months ago Republic was in a crisis over the Pentagon's cutback on the F-105. Civic committees were organized to contact the White House and the Defense Department. Long speeches were made.

Then the union contract expired. The union demands totaled a cost of 99.6 cents-an-hour in special unemployment insurance, vacations, welfare, etc. This did not include the demands for a cash wage increase.

The local leaders said they'll wait. They want to see what the aircraft and aerospace workers will get from Convair, Douglas, North American and Lockheed on the West Coast.

Then the boys here will average out the wage increases won at the four firms and add the figure to the 99.6 cents. This could bring the total to about $1.10-an-hour over a two-year contract.

SOME TWO MONTHS after the strike started, both sides were called in by Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg.

The presidential adviser asked them to submit to a fact-finding committee or to binding arbitration. The company said yes. The local union leaders said no.

The strike continued. The White House and the secretary of labor contacted the secretary of defense. Mr. McNamara said that the aircraft were needed on the German line. Furthermore, the fighters were scheduled for shipment to the Pacific. This meant the Viet Nam-Thailand sector.

There was pressure. But the union stayed out. The men lost about a million dollars in wages brought the President directly into labor relations. He decided to go into court.

And I'll bet ten bucks against a ticket stub to last year's World Series that in the end the union will win no more than it could have gotten from arbitration.

Republican Lethargy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Now's Time for GOP To Hit at Administration

There is something missing on the national scene. There's a noticeable absence of militancy on the part of most of the Republicans.

They are not exactly acquiescing in what the Kennedy administration is doing, but they certainly are not giving the rigorous criticism expected from the "loyal opposition" party.

It's true that two weeks ago the Republican membership of the Senate and House issued "a declaration of Republican principle and policy," but it hasn't awakened in the electorate throughout the country any crusading enthusiasm.

Maybe it's because the statement was phrased in a lot of high falutin' words and didn't get down to brass tacks. What the voters like to hear is something direct and simple that they can understand. They want to know when things are going to get better and who is going to make them better. They might even be persuaded to believe that the Republican party is the party of "good business" and that the Democratic party is the party of "bad business"—if somebody of prominence in every congressional district could explain that to them in understandable terms and phrases.

The Republican statement of a fortnight ago started out by defining as "the great issue of 1962" this question: "Which party acts more effectively to preserve and enlarge human freedom?"

This, in itself, is a very abstract query. The statement might better have said flatly that the real issue is: "Which party gives you a chance to earn more money and keep more money—and which party gives you assurance that you'll continue to have your job and that there will be a job for your boy when he gets out of school?"

Instead, the Republicans described the main issue in four sentences of their declaration of principle as follows:

"The current administration has shown little understanding of, or concern for, institutions that buttress freedom at home—separation of powers, checks and balances, state and local responsibility, and a free competitive economy."

"It has demonstrated neither the wit nor the will to meet effectively assault of international communism on freedom."

"We Republicans cannot witness the erosion of freedom without warning or protest. We propose a new direction for public policy in order to advance the cause of freedom at home and throughout the world."

Balderdash

By HENRY B. JAMESON

EDITOR'S NOTE—The writer of this article was with The Associated Press for 11 years. Was a fellow war correspondent with Hal Boyle and lived with him for a while in Europe. He is now editor and publisher of the Abilene (Kan.) Reflector-Chronicle.

This is my reply to my good friend Hal Boyle's recent column on the joys of raising a child in New York instead of the wide open spaces. We carried Hal's column as usual in my paper but I still don't agree with him.

He's been cooped up around New York too long. He should come out more often and see—and enjoy—how the other half lives; how we really live. There is a difference between living and existing.

My viewpoint is not based on lack of experience. I, too, lived in big cities from Kansas City and St. Louis to New York and London. Our son was born while I was a war correspondent in Europe. A desire not to raise him too "veddy, veddy" well over there was one reason for not accepting an AP offer to remain abroad.

We lived in New York until Junior was three years old. What a horrible experience that was—a third-floor walkup apartment in Far Rockaway. It leaked. We had experience with those playgrounds Boyle wrote about. They're all right, when there's nothing better, but it's unfortunate some people have to live like that. The only grass the kid ever saw was on a nearby church yard. He did learn to fight there, however. Had to in order to get a ride down the slippery slide in the playground.

I rode a train an hour a day each way and seldom got acquainted with the family except on weekends. Going to the hot and crowded beach now and then to be pushed around was a big deal. Those poor kids thought they were having fun.

Our little guy has grown up to be a 6-foot-1 college sophomore (University of Kansas), and a perfect specimen of health. He grew up near a creek that runs through our town. He could run away and

THIS MAY all be very sound, but it's hardly concrete enough for the perplexed voters to grasp.

The statement, moreover, declared that Republican philosophy "rests on the doctrines that the individual has a God-given dignity and that government exists to serve him" and that "government should do for people only the things they cannot do for themselves."

This reads well enough for those who are familiar with the debate between the exponents of centralized power and the believers in less meddling by government. But it doesn't tell the average man what a growing dictatorship in government means to his everyday life and his future.

It doesn't tell him that, since the days of our forefathers, the threat of an all-powerful government and a police state has been hanging over this republic and has to be constantly fought as it rears its head each time an emergency arises in the economic life of the country.

The trouble with the Republicans is that lately they have not been aggressive in politics. They are too restrained. They like to get everybody to agree on generalities.

The difficulty with statements of principle is that, after everybody puts in his two cents' worth at the party conferences, the result is a namby-pamby utterance which doesn't arouse the voters to get into the fight and to enlist their friends and neighbors, too.

THERE IS only one issue on the domestic front that counts. It's based on the pocketbook. Things are not going well nowadays.

The stock market drop reflects a widespread uneasiness about the man at the wheel in the White House. He himself isn't up for reelection this year but if more radicals and more rubber-stamp representatives and senators are elected this November, the coalition of non-socialists from the North and South, which in the last 15 years has saved America from state socialism, will be weakened and perhaps rendered powerless to stem the tide. Business then would get worse, and unemployment would rise.

The real issue of 1962 is whether private business is going to be permitted to function naturally and to expand normally, or whether government is going to try to run everything.

The Republicans can, in the 1962 campaign, draw this line clearly. The people can come to understand the effects on their wages, their salaries, their savings and their opportunities to move ahead toward a better life.

The people don't understand "sophisticated" ideas, but they do understand dollars and cents and the worries that come with recessions and depressions.

play but never get lost. He learned to fish, swim, boat, sled, ice skate outdoors on real ice within walking distance of home—a big two-story house with a large lawn on which he and his pals dug the usual cave. He got dirty. He went barefooted, he walked to elementary schools, he learned the enjoyment of picnicking and cooking out, he had an air rifle and a place to shoot it, along the creek, out in the country or at the nearby country club shooting range or lake.

Boyle talks about supervised playgrounds in the city offering everything from hop-scotch to basketball. What a pity! We have those, too. But our kids all have basketball courts in the backyard, too. The little girls have dogs, cats and other pets and play out in the wide open freedom spaces right along with the boys. We have 700 little boys, and some girls, playing organized baseball at the city park.

Our son had bicycles and freedom to ride. He had a pony available. A municipal swimming pool was within easy reach.

Boyle glosses over city life with "Look at the culture they get." We're not exactly uncultured. But our kids don't have to go to a zoo to see a cow, horse, fox, buffalo or coyote. What do the city kids know about wheat, corn, barley, alfalfa, combines? We have fine libraries and museums too. And we watch the same movies and television shows.

Needless Drownings

Drownings have claimed the lives of at least three persons in adjacent communities in the past week.

It is only natural that individuals are attracted to the water during hot weather but apparently the victims, principally youths, failed to comprehend ahead of time the potential dangers involved. Some can't swim and others can't swim a good as they thought they could. Helplessness and fright take over and drownings usually result.

These are tragedies that shouldn't happen but they are repeated every summer because people always enjoy a dip in the pool.

"Don't go near the water," is still the best advice, unless, of course, you are taking swimming lessons from an expert. (They're being given at the Salem city pool). And pools with adequate lifeguards are the safest places to swim. Visiting unprotected beaches, strip mine ponds and boating on a lake sans life preservers is asking for trouble.

Cole Porter Revival

By Joe Morgenstern

It is almost as impossible for an American to imagine a time when the world was without Cole Porter songs as it is for a Frenchman to imagine and concede that the composer of "I Love Paris" is an American.

Although there has been no lack of appreciation for the prolific gentleman and the 500-odd songs he has written in the last 35 years, the danger of appreciation is that when it gets too appreciative it slides beyond that to the sloppy.

Mr. Porter is in no need of sloppiness, which has always been anathema to him in his work. He is comfortably established on the 33rd floor of the Waldorf Towers, a far cry and a long elevator ride from his "Down in the Depths on the 19th Floor," one of the most archly sophisticated songs ever written by the man who has epitomized sophistication.

Mr. Porter didn't write "Over There," wasn't associated with "Tobacco Road," "The Threepenny Opera" or "Abie's Irish Rose," and is believed not to have provided the music for "Pal Joey," "Show Boat," "Oklahoma" or "My Fair Lady." Aside from these and certain other exceptions, he has concocted as many memorable evenings in the theater with his enduring songs as any single man has a right to.

He has journeyed to the South Seas in search of tunes which were in his head all the time.

He has dashed off his intricate music and his dead-accurate lyrics, usually beginning with the title and last line and then proceeding to the intervening passages, while sailing on the Rhine, shaving in the Berkshires, drinking ice water in the Aegean and pretending to listen to dullards at dinner parties in all the capitals of the Western World.

He has derived inspiration from dancers in Marrakech, from producers in Manhattan and, mainly, from his cortical treasure trove of melodies that owe fealty to no tradition but his own.

At the moment New York is in the throes of a Cole Porter revival, even though Mr. Porter has not written a new musical since "Silk Stockings" in 1955. "Can Can," his Francophile extravaganza from 1953, returned recently to the City Center, and "Anything Goes," a 1934 spoof of the gangster set is back in a stylish off-Broadway production at the Orpheum.

Mr. Porter said last week that his favorite brainchild has been "Kiss Me Kate," which opened in 1949 and fairly cries out for revival. His least favorite show, he said, is his earliest, "See America First," which was an unqualified failure in 1916. When will a new Porter score be along? He said he simply doesn't know.

For the last few years Mr. Porter has lived an increasingly secluded life for reasons not at all mysterious. His wife died in 1954, and a 1937 riding accident, in which his horse fell on him and shattered his legs, resulted in chronic osteomyelitis, more than 20 operations, and finally the loss of one leg.

Today he confines his social life to fairly regular dinners in his suite to which close friends are invited, two or three at a time. His travels are limited to weekends at his spacious retreat in the Berkshire Mountains. He has eschewed personal publicity and casual social intercourse.

Was Mr. Porter encouraged by a revival of interest in his music? His friend Abe Burrows reduced that question to its proper proportions. "Cole's a giant. There's a kind of immortality about being a musical giant, a kind of permanent thing there. He's constantly alive with his music, you know: Cole's not the kind of guy who goes out of fashion."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the woman who can't get her husband to go anywhere. Well, it's too bad her husband can't stay home with MY wife.

Six years ago I married a girl who is now 27. I am 29—so you can see we aren't exactly old folks.

My wife won't take a vacation because she has 191 houseplants. Our home is like a miniature jungle. She has every imaginable kind of fern and crawling ivy potted in urns, bottles, buckets, crocks and what have you.

She says she can't leave the house even for a weekend, because the plants must be watered in a special way. Also they must be rotated so they will receive the right amount of sunlight.

We haven't had a vacation since our honeymoon. I'm not the type who enjoys going off alone. Am I a fool? If my wife won't take a vacation with me this summer, should I go fishing alone? I need your advice. —JUNGLE FEVER.

Dear Jungle Fever: Tell your wife to line up a plant-sitter. If she refuses, leave her home with the fern and let her rotate the urns to her heart's content. You, my friend, should go fishing—without her.

Disgusting Advice

Dear Ann: I was never so disgusted in all my life as when I read your advice to the girl who was separated from her husband and asked you if it was all right to go out with men.

You said, "NO—you are still married." You must be nuts. Her husband is still married, but I'll bet he isn't living like a monk.

I am 24 years old and have been separated from my jerk for three years. Getting a divorce in Canada is like trying to figure out what the Russians are going to do next.

I'm caught in that well-known trap—legally married to a man who has a girl friend on the side. He doesn't have to marry HER as long as he's married to ME. So what am I supposed to do while he pulls every trick in the book—shrivel up and die?

Some of your advice sounds mighty noble on paper, but it's a lot easier to write it than to live by it. So why don't you stop being so smug and puritanical? —MAPLE LEAF.

tion was, "Should a woman who is still legally married accept dates?" The answer was, and is, "No—not if you value your reputation."

A girl of 24 isn't in imminent danger of shriveling up and dying if she passes up dates until she is no longer married.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks: Last week I was at a friend's house and she was rinsing her dishes before she put them in her electric dishwasher because she didn't have enough dishes in her washer to run it and said she always waited until it had a full day's supply of dishes. This woman thought she was saving money by rinsing the dishes under the hydrant. Think of the water she used. Her poor hands!

I put my breakfast dishes in the washer... then turn on the rinse cycle only a few minutes so that this water can rinse them and then turn my dishwasher off.

I wait until the next meal and do the same thing. When our washer is full than I run the washer through the entire cycle.

For those who missed some earlier columns, and have drying cycles on their dishwashers, there's no need to use the drying cycle if you want to save on electricity.

Let the dishes dry themselves by turning the dial to "off" after the dishes are washed and rinsed. Listen for the sound! Drying takes longer than the washing does. The dishes are already sterile and you aren't going to use them until the next meal anyway.

DEAR HELOISE:

To keep trouser hems from fraying, sew a button one inch from each side of the inside crease and it will relieve friction.

A thin coat of vaseline will keep the ice tray from sticking in the refrigerator.

Fly specks on glass or paint come off with vinegar and water.

Glass vases which hold flowers are beautiful when the water is tinted with food coloring.

Never dry white woolies in the sun. They will turn yellow.

Dip a candle in hot water before placing it in candelabra. This makes it fit and stick better.

Don't scour enamelware. Burner food should be soaked off.

Wrap a stale loaf of bread or rolls in a damp cloth for a few hours, then bake in moderate oven until fresh and crisp again.

Put embroidered materials and cut work face down on bath towels to iron.

Brown stains on china can be rubbed away with a damp cloth dipped in salt.

A good soak in salty water will remove slime from sponges.

If your alarm clock fails to wake you up, set it on a pie tin. A ball point pen can be used instead of marking ink if the mark is immediately pressed with a hot iron.

HELPFUL

DEAR HELOISE:

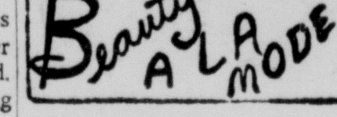

Here is a lulu of an idea I came across some years ago. If you find it necessary to get down on your knees, whether it be for scrubbing, painting floors, waxing or what-not... sew pockets on an old pair of slacks just where the knees are. Then insert a large sponge in each square pocket and presto... you have built-in kneeling pads.

FANNY

DEAR HELOISE:

If your refrigerator is short of space for those small and numerous leftovers, then do this: Place one layer of leftovers in the bot-

HAIR LIGHTENING

Just a little hair lightening can change the shape of your face—providing color-action follows the simple rules for harmonizing coiffures and facial contours. If the brightening is confined to middle strip of hair, from forehead through crown, your face will appear to be long, and consequently narrower. Hair streaked only at the sides will do the opposite; the face will appear wider.

One simple rule for a more attractive appearance is every day beauty attention at home accompanied by regular salon visits.

tom of a container, cover with a small piece of foil and repeat the procedure until all of your leftovers are "stacked" in one container!

This way if one has three dabs of something, she does not have three bowls in the refrigerator. When ready to remove, just lift the correct piece of foil out.

Engineers Request Funds To Study Ohio-Erie Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers have asked Congress for $220,000 more to continue the study of the proposed 103-mile Lake Erie - Ohio River canal. Congress already has allocated $280,000 for the study.

Brig. Gen. Jackson Graham, Ohio River Division engineer, outlined the status of the survey before the House public works appropriations subcommittee Tuesday. He said work has been initiated on detailed mapping of the canal route and the economic studies of the project. He added preliminary design of structures will start when foundation investigations are completed.

Bridge surveys are underway and investigation of real estate requirements is to begin in the near future.

The canal would connect Lake Erie in the Ashtabula, Ohio, area with the upper Ohio River near Pittsburgh.

Adding support to the canal, Ohio Democratic Congressman Michael Kirwan said "with the St. Lawrence Seaway this canal makes sense."

Cleveland Hot Streak 'Cooled Off' By Boston 4-2

Indians' Lead Cut to 1/2 Game

Green Raps Homer; Monbouquette Wins

CLEVELAND (AP)—The ninth-place Boston Red Sox and their classy right-hander, Billy Monbouquette, applied the ice packs, and the pennant fever of Cleveland Indians' fans—at a dangerous high Sunday night—has dropped a few degrees.

A day off Monday and a 4-2 loss to the Sox Tuesday night shrank the Indians' American League lead to a half game. After the historic four-game sweep over the New York Yankees last weekend, there was a comfy two-game margin. Two Minnesota Twins victories cut that down.

But the Yankees lost Tuesday night, too, and as Cleveland manager Mel McGaha says, June is a little early to be getting feverish.

Monbouquette Has Own Way

Monbouquette (5-7) had things all his own way for all but one inning Tuesday night. That was the eighth when he walked Chuck Essegian and pinch hitter Gene Green smashed his sixth home run. Ty Cline followed with a single — Cleveland's fourth and final hit.

Of the three Indians who reached first base in the other eight innings, one got there on a walk and another by beating out an infield roller. Monbouquette struck out nine.

Gomez Makes AL Debut

Ruben Gomez made his American League debut for the Indians and allowed Boston all 10 of its hits and all three earned runs. He was in trouble all the way.

Jim Perry (5-3) and Barry Latham (3-4) are McGaha's pitching nominations for tonight's doubleheader against Boston's Gene Conley (6-6) and Mike Forneles.

Manager 'Fight' Fails To Come Off

Oriole Fans Turned Out In Force

BALTIMORE (AP)—The ballyhooed "rematch" of fighting baseball managers didn't come off Tuesday night, but fans of the Baltimore Orioles couldn't have cared less.

Baltimore dispatched the slumping New York Yankees 3-1 in the quiet, businesslike manner usually associated with Yankee victories. It was the fifth loss in a row for New York and the fifth consecutive triumph for the surging Orioles.

The last time the two clubs met, in New York's Yankee Stadium on June 11, Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock and Ralph Houk, the Yankee skipper, almost came to blows.

The giant-sized rhubarb was set in motion after Oriole rookie John (Boog) Powell was beamed by a pitch from Yankee left-hander Bud Daley. When the Yanks came to bat, Baltimore pitcher Robin Roberts sent a pitch sailing over the head of Roger Maris and the shoving match began.

Baltimore fans, aroused over the possibility of a rematch, turned out in force. The crowd of 38,703 was the largest of the year in Memorial Stadium.

"I bet a lot of people were disappointed when I met Houk at home plate and didn't punch him in the nose," Hitchcock said.

"All Ralph said before the game," Hitchcock continued, "was that since he helped bring out the big crowd, he wanted a slice of the gate."

Angels Grab 3rd Place; Twins Win

Baltimore Hands NY 5th Straight Loss

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Angels took over third place from the Yankees in the American League race Tuesday night by beating the Yanks' favorite pasties—the Kansas City Athletics. Their 7-4 decision was the Angels' sixth straight victory over the A's and their ninth in 12 meetings this year.

Boston knocked off Cleveland's front-running Indians 4-2, Minnesota moved up by rapping Chicago 9-4, Baltimore won its fifth in a row and handed the Yanks their fifth successive defeat, 3-1, and Frank Lary recorded his first victory in over two months with a neat six-hitter as Detroit blanked Washington 5-0.

Twins Trail By Half Game

The results left Cleveland a bare half game ahead of the Twins, Los Angeles 1/2 back in third, and the Yankees slumped to fourth, three games behind the Indians.

The Angels socked four homers, three doubles and collected six walks against four Kansas City pitchers but had to struggle to beat the A's.

Angel starter Ken McBride homered off loser John Wyatt in the third and Leon Wagner raised his league-leading total to 19 when he connected with a man on in the fifth.

The Orioles, shut out the last four times Chuck Estrada started, finally gave the hard-throwing right-hander enough runs to win against the Yankees. Brooks Robinson paced Baltimore with a tie-breaking homer against Ralph Terry in the sixth inning and a run-scoring single in the eighth.

McKinley Seeded In Wimbledon Matches

LONDON (AP) — Chuck McKinley is the lone United States player seeded in the men's division of the Wimbledon championships which open next Monday.

Whitney Reed, America's top-ranked player, was ignored by the seeding committee which issued its lists Tuesday:

McKinley, rated No. 2 behind Reed in the United States, was given the No. 5 spot.

Defending champion Rod Laver, was No. 1 followed by his Australian Davis Cup teammates, Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser. Then came Ramanathan Krishnan of India and McKinley. Miguel Santana of Spain was No. 6, Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy No. 7 and Bob Hewitt of Australia No. 8.

Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., the No. 1 woman player in the United States, was seeded No. 2 behind Margaret Smith, 19-year-old Australian. Then came, in order, Maria Esther Bueno of Brazil, Rene Schuurman of South Africa, Ann Haydon of Britain, Angela Mortimer of Britain, Leslie Turner of Australia, and Mrs.

Youngstown Man Leads Pre-Senior Golf Tournament

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown, appropriately, still has the best of the "young old" (age 40-54) golfers going into today's second and final round of the seventh annual Ohio Pre-Seniors Golf Tournament.

Steve Pipoly of the Mahoning County metropolis posted a 36-34 —70 Tuesday to take the halfway lead by two strokes over Springfield's Joe Gray and Cadiz' A. D. Meder, who matched par at Springfield Country Club. Thus, Pipoly was the man to beat for the crown worn the past two years by a fellow Youngstowner, Tom Jones Jr.

Jones struggled to a 77 over the 6,528-yard course Tuesday.

Johnny Rotz, who won the rich Preackness with Greek Money and the rich Metropolitan Handicap with Carry Back in May, paced Aqueduct jockeys for the second straight spring. He rode 70 winners.

Drysdale, Howard Lead LA to 3-2 Win Over St. Louis

Giants Faltering; Reds Nip Bucs 2-1

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles notched his 11th victory of the season Tuesday night as the Dodgers moved out to a 2½ game advantage over the faltering San Francisco Giants.

His steady nine-hitter and his eighth complete game, along with some lusty hitting by Frank Howard, helped the Dodgers to a 3-2 victory over St. Louis while San Francisco was taking a 6-4 drubbing by the surprising Houston Astros.

In other National League games, Cincinnati took over third from Pittsburgh by edging the Pirates 2-1. Chicago came from behind to beat Philadelphia 9-5 and the New York Mets broke a seven-game losing string, 6-5, against Milwaukee.

Howard's 10th homer of the season got the Dodgers off to a 2-0 lead in the first and he scored the winner on a misplayed grounder in the seventh. He was on third, Ron Fairly on first and there was one out when Duke Snider bounced back to the pitcher, Lindy McDaniel, who unaccountably threw to first while Howard lumbered in with the winning run. Houston right-hander Dick Farrell choked off a Giant rally in the ninth as the Colts won their fifth in six starts and knocked San Francisco another game off the pace. The Colts belted Billy O'Dell (7-6) for three runs in the first and were never headed.

Jerry Lynch's single, his third hit of the game, drove in Don Blasingame with the run that broke a 1-1 tie and pulled Cincinnati into a third-place tie with the Pirates. It was the Reds sixth victory in seven games with Pittsburgh.

Cubs Gain Fifth Win in a Row
The Cubs collected their fifth straight victory in the comeback against the Phillies. Philadelphia had a 5-3 lead going into the ninth, but the Cubs jammed in six runs against five Philadelphia pitchers.

Roger Craig's (4-9) seven-hitter and home runs by Gene Woodling and Joe Christopher were the big items in the Mets victory over Milwaukee, the sixth time in 10 have beaten the Braves. Eddie Mathews had his 12th homer for the losers.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Fishing is still holding up at Lake Guilford although crappies and bluegills provide the most action. They don't come in the "whopper" class yet, however, it is not uncommon to get all the seven inch gills you want. Crappies are now leveling off to the seven inch class but there are plenty of nine and 10 inchers being taken around sundown and at daybreak.

THE ONLY REASON MORE bass are not being taken after dark is because not many people fish for them at that time of the day. I hear they are active around midnight when surface poppers do the trick. Channel cat are also being taken from 9 to 17 inches. Channels were stocked for three years and there are three different sizes that run from nine to 17 inches. Some people don't know one cat from another but the ones with the forked tails are channels, the others and most prevalent are bullheads either brown, black or yellow.

In the near future, the fish management section will release copper sulphate in Zepnerick Lake. The reason for this is to activate the fish. For some reason when copper sulphate is placed in the water the fish move around. There will be men on hand daily making a creek census in order to determine how much the fish take increases after the lake is treated.

JOHN BATZLI, RD 4, Lisbon, called me to come out and see an unusual groundhog he had killed. It bordered on being an albino but was too much on the tan side. I would like to have had it mounted but it had been out of refrigeration so "pew!" I never saw one like it before.

There's a good hatch of wood ducks this year and they can be seen on most any body of water including the swampy puddles. Green head mallards come second among the native wild ducks. There is a pair of bluebills (scaup ducks) on Lake PNA, along with a pair of coot, a private lake near New Alexandria. If they happen to nest it could be the first known to nest in Columbiana County.

Two young boys were walking along Rt. 172 carrying a snapping turtle about 10 lbs. I inquired where they got it and they said "out of grandpa's farm pond." They went on to say two really big ones got away. I asked them if they weren't afraid of getting bitten. They said, "you won't if you know which end to grab hold of!" Maybe I'll learn to quit asking foolish questions.

Change In Air Aids Longer Ball -- Adcock

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Adcock, who almost went down in baseball history as the only hitter ever to reach the Polo Grounds center field bleachers with a home run, thinks the ball is being belted further this year than ever before.

"Don't ask me why," said the giant Milwaukee Braves first baseman before today's doubleheader with the New York Mets. "But I've seen longer hits this year than ever before. Maybe it's because of a change in the air."

Back in 1953 Adcock hit a homer into the bleachers, the first ever. The Polo Grounds would have been torn down this year except that the Mets had nowhere to play while their own park was being built. So the old field on Coogan's Bluff was spared a year.

In two days, Lou Brock, Chicago Cubs' rookie, and Adcock's teammate, Hank Aaron, found the range and plunked homers into the center field bleachers.

Don't laugh at Adcock's air theory. He is serious.

"When I broke in with the Cincinnati Reds," he recalled, "a power guy like Ralph Kiner hit only one over that Cincinnati left field fence in three years. "Now they've knocked down buildings all around the park, and it's no more trick to do it. Maybe there's a greater movement of air."

Italian Club Loss Protested; Bliss, Democrats Also Defeated

Lisbon Hotel, Odom's Sohio, Shaffer Ford Win 'A' Games

League-leading Lisbon Hotel upended the Italian Club 10-4; Odom's Sohio kept on the heels of the Hotel nine by getting past Bliss 4-2 and Shaffer Ford scored a 4-2 triumph over the Salem Democrats in Class A League action Tuesday at Kelley Park.

Lisbon chalked up its sixth consecutive victory in enhancing its mark to 7-1 while Odom's held on to second place with an 8-2 record also winning its last 6 games.

THE LISBON - ITALIAN Club encounter was marred by the fact that the Italian Club charged that the Hotel aggregation was using an illegal player. No decision was rendered concerning the Italian Club protest.

Lisbon jumped to a quick 6-0 lead in the first inning on a single by Harry Duncan and a double by John Eckstine, coupled with four walks in a row, a sacrifice fly by Harry Reisinger and an error.

The winners added a seventh tally in the last of the second frame before the Italian Club managed to break into the scoring column in the third canto on a single by John Chaffin and an error.

Don Casey picked up the victory for the Lisbon team as he walked eight and fanned three. Ray Thompson received the loss. Both pitchers were hindered with four team errors each.

ODOM'S SOHIO HAD to come from a 2-0 lead built up by the Bliss nine in the second inning before handing Bliss its eighth defeat in nine starts.

Bliss tallied its two runs with a hit as the losers managed to get three walks and an error in chalking up the runs.

Odom's came back with a run in the third on a double by Bill Panzott and a single by Ron Shaffer. The winners then added a tying run in the fourth and on a walk, a single by George Alek and a double by Tom Ehrhart. Odom's pushed the winning tally across the plate in the top of the fifth canto.

Alek and Ehrhart paced the Odom's batting attack with two hits apiece. Panzott captured the victory as he hurled a five-hitter and struck out nine batters.

Bob Kekel rapped a double and a single to spark the hitting department for the Bliss aggregation.

SHAFFER FORD MOVED to a 1-0 lead in the second inning on singles by Harley Huffman and Carl Adams but the Salem Democrats tied the count in the top of the third canto on a walk and a single by Don Mulin.

The Ford nine captured the tilt in the last of the fifth inning with a three-run rally sparked by three consecutive doubles rapped by Jerry Beiling, Gene Stallsmith, and Tom Cope. Huffman added a single in the big inning.

Pacing the 12-hit attack for Shaffer Ford were Beiling, Stallsmith, Huffman, Adams and Eldon Morse, each with two safeties apiece.

Bill Wilson collected three singles to show the way for the Democrats.

Hot Stove Leagues

E. W. Bliss recorded his first victory of the season and two extra inning frays were played in Hot Stove League battles Tuesday.

Class E

CIO 3372 gave the Bliss aggregation a run for its first win of the year in four starts as both teams scored in every inning but two.

Bliss jumped off to a 2-1 lead right back to tie it in the second. The lead changed hands twice more before the winners forged ahead in the top of the seventh to stay.

SINGLES BY CLYDE Stoffer sparked the three-run winning rally for Bliss.

Steele with two singles and a double paced the Bliss attack. Stoffer and Spiker aided the winners' cause. Hilton Moffet received the victory for Bliss as he fanned seven batters.

Les Hardy with a double and a triple and Rich Parolntieri with a single and a triple featured for the losers. Dave Walker, Bink Washington and Norm Uptegraph rapped two hits each for CIO 3372.

Class F

Bob Craig socked a single in the top of the eighth frame to drive in two runs to give Eljer a 3-1, extra-inning, victory over Mullins.

Gary Stoddard of Eljer and Doug Plastow of Mullins hooked up in a real tight pitcher's duel before Craig's blast. Stoddard allowed Mullins one hit while Plastow gave up four to Eljer.

STODDARD FEATURED in the Eljer batting attack with two singles. Walt Johnson smacked the only hit for the losers.

Stoddard struck out 11 in gaining the win. Scoring all its runs in the first three innings the Farmers Bank rolled to a 10-1 victory over Fisher's News behind a 14-hit attack.

Dave Bruderly was the big man in the Bank onslaught as he rapped a homer, a triple and two singles. Chuck Cushman and Berry Marks collected two hits and Chris Christafaris belted a double and two singles for the winners.

Bob Luttmers lined a triple to feature in the three-hit Fisher News attack.

Class G

The Italian Club pushed two tallies across the plate in the last of the eighth canto to eke out a 10-9, extra inning, win over Hunt's moving into a 4-2 lead after three innings of play. The game was tied for the second three runs in the top of the fifth and the Italian Club came back with five in the last of the frame.

TWO ERRORS WERE costly to the Hunt's nine as the Italian Club did not garner a hit in the last of the eighth in gaining the win.

Bill Smith with a grand slam homer in the fifth inning and Dick Walker with a triple powered the Italian Club attack. Doug Culler with three hits and Greg Proctor with two aided the win.

Robby Steele with a triple and Bill Helmick with two singles featured for the losers. Terry Davis received the loss for Hunt's but not before he had recorded 11 strike outs.

Stark's Colonial scored a narrow 11-10 triumph over Merchants Vending in a game that decided who would hold sole possession of second place. Stark's now sports a 5-1 mark, a half-game behind league-leading Moose Lodge, while the Vending crew slipped to a 4-2 record.

Merchants Vending talked three runs in the first inning but Stark's came back with seven in the top of the second on six singles. Vending took the lead again, 8-7, in the last of the fourth on doubles by Tom Capel and Rich Crammer.

A FOUR-RUN RALLY in the fifth frame, sparked by Tom Bezere's triple and Randy Hanzlick's single, gave Stark's its one-run victory.

Bezere's with two hits led the Stark's attack. Nelson Stoddard with a single and a triple featured for the Vending aggregation.

Rapping only one hit, a grand slam homer by Jim DeLuce in the first inning, the Independent Hose Co. rolled to a 17-10 victory over the Hobbycraft nine. The winners were aided by 17 walks issued by three Hobbycraft hurlers.

The Hose crew pushed eight runs across the plate in the first frame and Hobbycraft countered with seven on three errors, a hit batter and singles by Bob Faber and John Lantz.

Lantz chalked up two of the four Hobbycraft hits while Paul Henry chipped in with a double.

Minutes later Jerry Green, AGVA's Baltimore branch manager, acknowledged under oath he never had enforced the provisions of the union's contract forbidding club owners to require entertainers to mix with male patrons.

Nor, Green added, was he ever told to enforce the provisions by the union's president, comedian Joey Adams; or its operating head, the administrative secretary, Jackie Bright.

written opinion.

Coe's opinion contradicted an earlier one given by Atty. Scott McCorkhill, who was solicitor when the meters were purchased.

In his opinion, McCorkhill, cited a section in the Ohio Revised Code which states that certification by the auditor that money is available is not required for contracts on which payments are to be made from the earnings of a publicly-operated water or public utility.

Coe said the parking meter contract does not come within the exceptions for a public utility as referred to by McCorkhill. He did say that the mayor was authorized to make meter purchase up to $500 — the amount that had been appropriated for meters and meter maintenance.

Mayor Cranmer has claimed all along that City Council gave him verbal orders to make the purchase and that no certification was necessary because the meters were to be paid for over a number of years out of revenue produced by them. However, at the time the mayor made the purchase there was no "parking meter fund."

The mayor also said that Council had authorized the advertising of bids for meters and that the Magee-Hale Co. was the only bid received. The bid was opened and read and approved, and Cranmer said that making the purchase from any other company would have been illegal.

Coe said that Council could invite the Magee-Hale Co. to file a claim for the amount against the city or the firm could take the case to court. Council later invited the Oklahoma City company to file a claim.

A surprise resolution by James Aldom (D. at-large) at the May 15 meeting of Council failed by one vote. The move would have ordered the solicitor to bring legal action against the auditor to make payment.

Jack Rance (R. at-large) said he couldn't understand why Aldom introduced the resolution since he felt Council had agreed to have the company file claim. At that time, however, no word had been heard from the firm.

Aldom, who has repeatedly stated he believes Mayor Cranmer is unjustly being made to bear the brunt of some politically inspired shenanigans, said at that time, that he was "sick and tired of talking about parking meters" and that it was time to "take some solid action" in the matter.

pletion of the building by February, 1963.

Further complicating the financial situation is the payment of $10,584 to the Sebring Local School District. This payment is part of a balance of $424,942 which the Mahoning County School Board ordered the West Branch district to pay when the two districts split. Two installments have been paid under protest, Heacock said.

A hearing is scheduled for Thursday in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court to decide the legality of the defaulted bond payment. Judge David Jenkins will hear the case.

Last night the Board also renewed contracts with ten full-time and two-part-time custodians and hired all the cooks except Mrs. Lester Burton, who is retiring.

Building assignments will be made later, President Norman Barnett said. Also rehired were mechanics Lester Morrow and George Wolf.

Resignations of Mrs. Loretta Burt, first grade teacher at Maple Ridge School, and Norman Huff, eighth grade teacher at Knox School, were accepted. Mrs. Burt will teach in Salem Schools.

Ben Davies of Youngstown was hired to teach typing for six weeks of summer school at a sum of $250.

The Star Engraving Co. of Cleveland was granted a contract to provide rings for the 1963 class. The Board is considering buying the same type rings each year rather than each class making its decision.

The Board also authorized the purchase of five electric and five mechanical typewriters for use in commercial courses.

OSU Graduate Gets Envelope, No Diploma

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It cost Western Reserve University $1.02 to send a very fancy envelope from Cleveland to Columbus. There was, however, supposed to be a diploma in it.

Stanley E. Rosewater of Columbus had just completed his first year of medical school at Ohio State University and, by virtue of this, also officially completed his four-year bachelor of science course at WRU.

The fancy envelope arrived Tuesday at the Rosewater household—but someone had forgotten to include the all-important sheepskin.

GOP Making Gigantic Effort To Infiltrate 'Solid South'

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican high command, banking heavily on the theory that the South is conservative, is making a big effort this year to loosen the traditional Democratic moorings of Dixie.

The 11 states usually classed as Southern will hear more cannonading between major parties in 1962 than at any time in a century. The states are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

A few statistics will illustrate the stirrings of the GOP in an area where not so many years ago Republican was considered a naughty word.

This year the Republicans expect to have 60 or more candidates running in these states for seats in the U.S. House of Representatives. Two years ago they had only 38 candidates.

The 11 states will have a total of 106 seats in the new House. (This is the same as they have in the present House; some of the states are losing seats as a result of the 1960 census, others are gaining, but the gains and losses exactly balance each other.)

Of these 106 seats in the present

House, only 7 are held by Republicans. The GOP has high hopes of picking up some more.

Although all the primaries and nominating conventions have not been held yet, the Republicans will have U.S. Senate candidates fighting it out with Democratic foes in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina and perhaps Louisiana.

Of the Southern states selecting governors this year they will have candidates in Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas. A. Edward Smith, Georgia's first Republican candidate for governor since Reconstruction days, was killed June 5 in a traffic accident. A party executive committee meets today in Atlanta to decide whether to call a state convention to pick another nominee.

Mississippi is the only one of the states where the GOP has no candidate for major office. Party officials say grass roots building for the future is in progress there.

In local politics in many Southern states the GOP is also becoming more vigorous, mounting campaigns for such offices as mayor, city council or state legislatures.

Many reasons are given for the beginnings of a two-party system in the South, including increasing industrialization and the waning of animosities born of the Civil War and Reconstruction.

But I. Lee Potter, who has crisscrossed the South on travels designed to strengthen the party, contends the main reason is that many Southerners consider the Democratic party too liberal.

Potter, who as assistant to the Republican national chairman is in charge of "Operation Dixie," says: "Southerners are basically conservative and many of them don't find conservatism in the Democratic party."

In a number of cases Republicans are running candidates who formerly were Democrats. For example, Floyd Spence only a few months ago was sitting in the South Carolina Legislature as a Democrat. But he broke with the party and is now the Republican nominee for the U.S. House of Representatives from the 2nd South Carolina District.

Jack Cox, conservative, ran for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Texas two years ago. He gave Gov. Price Daniel a hot race but lost. Now he has switched parties and is the Republican nominee for governor.

Boys State Officers Set Budget

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The Gibson administration at Buckeye Boys State, estimating it would take $6,769,800 (in imaginary money) to operate the state, faced a possible battle over the budget today.

Federalist Gov. David Gibson of Warren was to submit the budget, prepared by Finance Director Tim Dix of Kent, to a Nationalist-dominated General Assembly.

Thus the teen-agers participating in the American Legion's annual self-government exercise were in another true-to-life situation as activities at the temporary state on the Ohio University campus progressed.

Tuesday Gov. Gibson appointed department directors: John Harris, Oberlin, natural resources; Albert Moyer, Garfield Heights, industrial relations; William Perry, Vickery, personnel; Frank Wilson, Lima, education and Steve Newell, Warren securities and small loans.

National Guard and Naval Reserve units of 130 boys each were organized under Adj. Gen. Alan Lawver of Louisville. His civil defense director appeared to be a good choice — James Mason of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The 1200-plus Boys State citizens, who heard FBI special agent Don Hanning of Washington, D.C., at Tuesday night's assembly, this evening are to hear talks by R. C. (Scotty) Young, lecturer on Americanism, and Thomas Cunningham of Steubenville, a West Point cadet and former Boys State.

Health Care Bill Sparks Senate Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans threatened an all-out fight today against any administration effort to force a Senate vote on President Kennedy's plan for health care for the elderly.

The Kennedy bill, which calls for Social Security financing of hospital and nursing home benefits, remains stalled in the House Ways and Means Committee despite indications that the President is willing to compromise on some of its features.

If this situation doesn't change, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said he will offer the proposal as a rider on some House-passed revenue measure.

Since the House must originate such legislation, it would be unlikely to accept such a Senate amendment.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview that if the Democrats try such a maneuver they will find they have a fight on their hands.

Asked if Republican talk might delay a possible mid-September adjournment of Congress, Dirksen shrugged. He said that would depend somewhat on when the Democrats chose to make their move.

Girls State Begins Legislative Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If there happened to be any "lame ducks" lingering around Buckeye Girls' State, they were engulfed today as the teen-age community's government began full operation.

With Kathleen McFarland of Toledo esconced as governor following Tuesday's election — although she won't be formally inaugurated until tonight — executive, legislative and judicial branches started functioning.

They'll carry on the rest of the week, one of the highlights coming tonight when Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court inaugurates officers and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle addresses the 1,119 girls at the inauguration banquet.

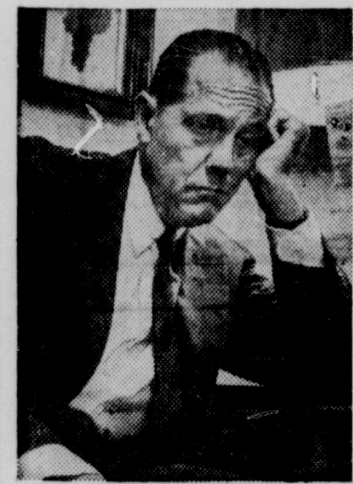

All but 23 of the young politicians voted for governor Tuesday, despite rain at pool-opening. They cast 571 votes for Miss McFarland, a Nationalist, to 525 for Federalist nominee Sylvia Jane Cox of Columbus.

The governor will have to work with Federalists who were chosen attorney general (Paula Krupko of McDonald) and State auditor (Kathleen Sue Rumbaugh of Kent but has Nationalist company in the posts of lieutenant governor (Sue Danielson of Bay Village), secretary of state (Mary Beth Alderman of Warren) and treasurer (Linda Maureen Gold of South Euclid).

To Tour Station

Farm producers of the Columbiana-Mahoning-Trumbull area will tour the Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station at Wooster June 28 to view the agronomy research work at the station.

Topics to be discussed and viewed include alfalfa and birdsfoot trefoil varieties, forage management and seedings, herbicides for corn and small grains, silage crops, crop rotations, corn planting methods, atomic energy commission plots (73 of radioactive tracers) and fertility, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Columbiana groups will travel by cars which will pick up passengers at two points: at Lisbon Grange hall at 8:15 a.m. and at West Local School, East Rochester, at 8:40 a.m.

Those attending should bring a sack lunch. Anyone interested is invited, Myers said.

Dairy Club To Meet

Columbiana County Dairy Club will meet at the Dwayne Hawkins farm on Rt. 558, one mile east of East Fairfield, June 27 at 8 p.m., according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

A tour of the farm facilities and the judging of two rings of cattle will be the evenings highlights. Any 4-H member carrying a dairy project is urged to attend.

Dairy Judging Tour

Columbiana — Mahoning County 4-H dairy judging tour will be held June 28, at three farms in the area.

Beginning at 10 a.m., the group will visit the Richard Rhodes farm. A sack lunch will be held on the Rhodes lawn.

The Willis Zimmermann farm will be visited at 1:15 p.m. and the Harold McCullough farm at 2:30 p.m. Two rings of cattle will be judged at each farm.

Dan McGrew, extension dairy specialist, will be the official judge. Any 4-H member carrying a dairy project is invited to attend this tour, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Farm Station Tour

Northeastern Ohio farmers are invited to take part in a tour at the Ohio Agriculture Experiment farm at Wooster June 28 to observe "up to the minute" research work.

Stops at the experiment station will include:

Alfalfa and birdsfoot trefoil varieties, forage management and seedings, herbicides for corn and small grains, silage crops, crop rotations, corn planting methods, Atomic Energy Commission plots (use of radioactive "tracers") and fertility.

This wagon tour will start at the Snyder Farm at 10:30 a.m. (EDT). This farm is located on Route 250 southwest of Wooster. It is approximately two miles southeast of the Administration Building (main campus) of the station. It is suggested that lunches be carried so as to save time. The group will leave Wooster between 2:30 and 3 p.m.

A word from
THERON at the Old Country Store

That article I had about coffee and ham-burgers did a real good job for us. We sold more of those delicious hamburgers than in any other one week. We gave away some with the article but not as many as I hoped. So many of them forgot their coupons.

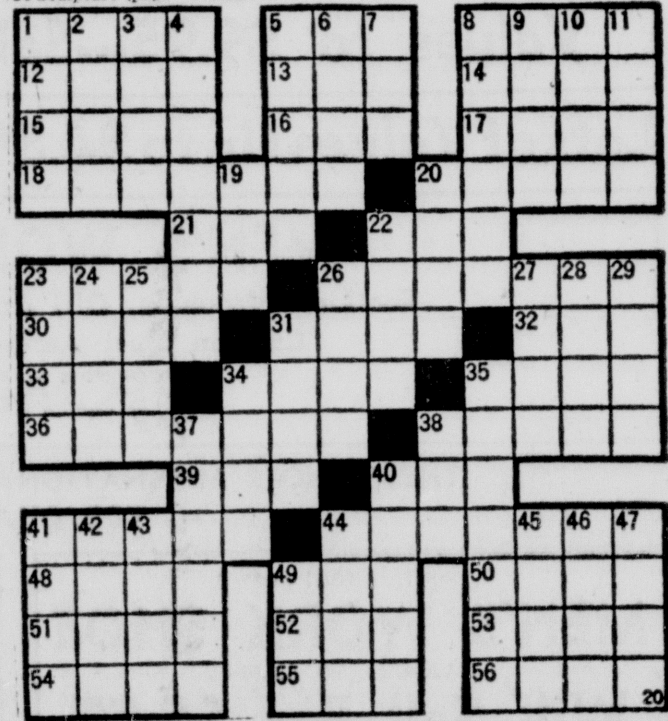

One fellow sat down and ate six, don't know how he did it. We had to give away very little coffee.

Secret Service Arrests 3 In Counterfeiting Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—Secret Service agents and police have struck here and in two other American cities in a swift attempt to crush a U.S.-Canadian ring specializing in counterfeit money orders.

Three Canadians and a Vermont man were arrested here Tuesday with what a Secret Service spokesman said was $17,500 in counterfeit Canadian Pacific Railway money orders.

The spokesman said $18,100 more in counterfeit drafts was taken from three Toronto men arrested by Secret Service agents and police in Detroit.

In Buffalo, N.Y., city police announced they were holding four Canadians who they said had nearly $9,000 in counterfeit money orders.

Tips from Toronto police resulted in the New York and Detroit arrests. The Secret Service spokesman said the organization is working closely with Canadian authorities to determine whether other members of the ring still are operating here or in Canada.

The men arrested in New York City were identified as Edward P. Callahan, 37, of Albany, Vt.; and Gary Bell, 28, Barry G. Kirk, 38, and Shaun Bernard, 28, all of Montreal.

They were arraigned and held in $15,000 bail each for a hearing Friday on charges of passing counterfeit obligations of a foreign corporation.

The three Toronto men arrested in Detroit were identified as Bruce W. Walker, 21; David C. Ford, 28, and Gordon D. Atamancheck, 21.

They were held on charges filed by local police.

The men arrested in Buffalo were identified as Pasquale Di-nunno, 28; Marcel Contois, 24, and Joseph L. Levesque, 32, all of Montreal; and Raymond Charon, 37, of Port Arthur, Ont.

They were being held without charge, Buffalo police said, but a technical detainee charge had been filed by the U.S. Border Patrol.

Steel Price Boost Not Seen Likely Before September

NEW YORK (AP)—The effects of the clash with President Kennedy rule out serious thoughts of a steel price increase before September, the Iron Age said today.

The metalworking weekly said the earliest possibility would be in that month and could only be selective.

It made the comment after noting that the new steel labor contract will add an estimated $2 a ton to the cost of making steel when it becomes effective July 1.

The added cost will come, it added, at a time when steel orders are at a rate that would justify steel production equal to only 50 per cent of capacity.

The new labor contract may cause considerable disruption at the local level, the Iron Age said, because of what it termed complicated security provisions that are still being worked out.

These include regional transfers, minimum work weeks and flexible vacation schedules.

The September increases might be possible, said the Iron Age, because inventory liquidations should be past and an upturn in steel orders and production may be under way.

The short-term outlook is poor, the magazine said. It predicted a production drop of 10 per cent in July and said a resurgence of buying by automakers for August is not likely to reach expected strength.
